An Illustration. Mr. EDMUNDS'S resolution has reminded a Republican senator of a "barren ideality" of the days of old ZACH TAYLOR. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald repeats the senator's illustrative storyas follows :

The New York delegation in the House had unanimously requested General Taylor to appoint a certain man to office. The General declined to do it. Thereupon the New York abers met and agreed that the Pre sident had insulted them, and appointed two of their number to see him and remonstrate. The old General received them, and they represented that they were deputed to ask him why he did not, as the delegation had requested, appoint John Jones. "Because he is a rascal," said the General. The two unlucky ambassadors, after a little silence, began to make a new appeal, but the President turned his back on them; and they, finding that the audience had ended, departed. On the steps of the White House, after the door had closed behind them, one said to the other: "Look here. This thing is very serious. I'm trying to make up my mind about it. I'm puzzed about two things. First, I'm sure the President has insulted the New York delegation in Congress; but, second, what are we going to do about it?"

There's the very question that lies at the foundation of all this senatorial "gabble "-if we may use such a word. "What are you going to do about it?" What is the use of arguing with the President? What is the use of resolving that he ought to do what you know he will not do? Why should the Senate expose itself to the taunts of a wicked world that has no sympathy with senatorial privileges nor with starchamber investigations? There is nothing to come of it all. If, as Mr. EDMUNDS has intimated, the Senate is a court, it is certainly nothing better than a moot court so far as the matter now under consideration is concerned. If the Senate shall adopt Mr. ED-MUNDS's resolution, the President will merely laugh that body to scorn; and the House of Representatives will congratulate him upon his pluck.

The amendment to Mr. EDMUNDS'S resolution offered by Mr. VAN WYCK ought to be supported by the Democratic senators. That amendment provides that in all "such cases" (we suppose wherever documents and papers are furnished to the Senate by the President) the Senate shall sit in open session during the progress of the investigation into the fitness or the character of the nominee. Now, if Mr. EDMUNDS was sincere when he arraigned the President for secretly stabbing the reputations of faithful officers. let him accept Mr. VAN WYCK's proposition, and refuse to allow the Senate to stab secretly any good nominee's reputation. Governor JOE BROWN, like Mr. MAXEY, distinctly declared in his speech of Thursday that the tenure-ofoffice act was unconstitutional. Surely it is. Let it be consigned to the moles and the bats. That is the law which the President said had fallen into a state of "innocuous desuetude."

But, after all, the best thing the Senate could do would be to lay Mr. EDMUNDS's resolution upon the table, never to be called up.

Worth Reading. We have read Judge HUGHES's last pamphlet on the silver question. He marshals his facts with consummate skill, and makes them the solid basis of all his arguments. Representatives. We have in our possession a large quantity of literature on the questions cussed by Judge HUGHES-books. aphlet, essays, newspaper articles, rs, and what not; and his argument is second to none for completeness. It is indeed totus, teres, atque rotundus. It reminds us of GEORGE FITZHUGH'S proslavery arguments in Sociology for the South," which we once told him proved too much—

Lochrane had decided to abandon the Protestant-Episcopal Church and become a Baptist. The Judge took an active part in favor of prohibition in namely, that a good many white men the late elections here, and was thus would find their condition bettered by being enslaved. He candidly admitted wat his argument might be held to lead to that cone'usion. So it is with Judge HUGHES's silver argument, though we do not know that he wou'd concede and emptied of their contents into the law-makers ought at once to discard the single gold standard of values and stablish a silver monometallism. For you'd a question, that silver has not de-preciated in value as compared with commodities but only relatively ld, then it follows that gold has ntracted upon a silver basis. In other words, if, as Judges HUGHES shows, a thousand dollars of silver illion will buy as much of flour and other necessaries of life as a thousand silver dollars would have bought forty, thirty, or twenty years ago, then the hundreds of millions and billions of debt that were contracted upon a silver basis ought not to be increased twentyfive per cent, by adherence to a gold standard of values.

But this is a knotty point, and we will " haul off." We set out to write but a dozen lines on Judge HUGHES's last addition to his book on the silver question.

The Ohio-River Railroad. The Ohio-River railroad is to run from Wheeling to Point Pleasant along the Ohio river, and will possibly be extended into Kentucky at some future time. It is already completed from Wheeling to Parkersburg, and the Wheeling Register declares it to be settled that it is to be finished to Point Pleasant in the near future. Of course, the line of the new road runs all the last Tuesday under which more than a million and a half of dollars are expected to be spent between Parkersburg and Point Pleasant before the 1st of next October. If so. flush times may be looked for along the line of the new road, which will soon penetrate a region in which there is little money .. The counties along the new part of the road will be greatly benefited by its construction. The road is, of course, expected to be a paying one to the persons with whose money it is to be built.

with Wheeling by rail. The Chesapeake and Ohio road runs to Charleston, a short ride from Point Pleasant, (only forty miles, we think,) both of which places are on the Kanawha river. A road already runs between those two points. A trip from Richmond to wheeling on these roaus would be very interesting one. We trust that first edition.

WHICHGREW OUT OF TROUBLE AMONG A Heavy Fine Arrested on a Serious Charge-Some Railroad Notes-The Blair Bill.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.) RALFIGH, N. C., March 19 .- The RALEIGH, N. C., March 19.—Ine celebrated case of the State against Dr. W. C. Murphy, indicted for horse-whipping Dr. W. T. Ennett for alleged circulation of slanderous reports at the last meeting of the State Medical Society in Durham, was disposed of in the Pender Superior Court—Judge Gilmer imposing a fine of $400 and continuing Dr. Murphy under a $2,000 bond for twelve months. CROOKED NEW YORK OFFICIALS. Alderman Jachne's Arrest and Its "Earthquake" Effect.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] NEW YORK, March 19 .- The arrest of Alderman Jachne on the indictment charging him with bribery in the matter of the charter of the Broadway surface-road, has had an effect upon politicians fairly comparable to an earthquake. Inspector Byrnes claims to have worked himself so far into Jachne's confidence that he acknowledged having received $20,000 for his vote on that measure and told who besides himself was bribed and who paid this money to them. Logan's correspondence from falling into chaos." The presumption is that both clerks are grammarians.

Jachne is perfectly composed, and says Byrnes's story of the confessions is a pure fabrication. Byrnes says that among other things Jachne described how one of the bribed aldermen had employed a lawyer and tributed it was currently reported that Alderman Frelgraff would be arrested tc-day, but if he has been it has not become known. More indictments were looked for to-day, but although about twenty indictments were handed in by any against aldermen.

Alderman Pearson, one of those under the cloud, was called to-day as a witness before the Senate committee of investigation, but failed to respond, and this added fresh impetus to the report that some of Jachne's partners in the bribe-taking have absconded. Rumor is busy with the names of all who were in the Board when the Broadway franchise was passed. Inspector Byrnes was interviewed to-day upon this subject. He refused to say who had, according to his information, been guilty of bribe-taking, but said he could absolutely exonerate two members, Aldermen Grant and O'Connorone a Democrat and the other a Repub-

A Declaration of War.

WEST POINT, VA., March 18, '86,

Editor of the Dispatch: Noticing the card of our whiskey friends in the Dispatch of the 17th, we reply that,
"with charity for all and malice toward none," we are ready for the fray. We propose to fight on moral and religious grounds with an eye single to the glory of God and the good of our fel-low men and their suffering wives and children through the demon of intemperance. We mean, by the help of God. to close up the twelve dens of iniquity which stare us in the face at every street-corner and open the door of temptation to weak-minded brothers, and husbands, and fathers, and, worse than all, to our children who have never yet tasted the intoxicating cup.

The first sight that greets the eye of a visitor to our pretty little town is a saloob. We can't get a decent visitor from the railroad depot or the steamer's wharf up into town without his running the gauntlet of liquor-saloons; and we propose, if we can, to remove this evil and reproach from our midst, and make the town of West Point what nature evidently intended it should be, the most beautiful and attractive Tidewater town in Old Virginia.

We are fully organized for the battle. and we have left the word "fail" off "Come over (friends) into Macedonia and help us."

Yours respectfully, Rev. J. H. NEWBILL, Baptist : Rev. C. H. McGHEE, Methodist : Rev. P. BROOKE,

Not Symptoms, but the Biacase.

It would seem to be a truth appreciable by all, and especially by professors of the healing art, that to remove the disease, not to alleviate its symptoms, should be the chief aim of medication. Yet in how many instances do we see this truth, admitted in theory, ignored in practice? The reason that Hostetter's Stomach Elitters is successful in so many cases with which remedies previously tried were inadequate to cope is attributable to the fact that it is a medicine which reaches and removes the causes of the various maiadies to which it is adapted. Indigestion, fever and ague, liver complaint, gout, rheumatism, disorder of the bowels, urinary affections, and other maladies are not palliated mereity, but rooted out by it. It goes to the fountainhead. It is really not nominally a radical remedy, and it endows the system with an amount of vigor which is its best protection against disease.
